

Business Energy Incentive Program

Energy Audits

Maximize your savings with a free energy audit

In today's business world, it pays to be energy-efficient. But with countless energy-saving strategies to choose from, sometimes it takes an expert to know where to begin. A free energy audit from Indianapolis Power & Light Company (IPL) takes the guesswork out of saving energy with an in-depth assessment of your facility, expert advice and generous incentives.

THE PROCESS

During a walk-through, typically lasting one to three hours, a trained, third party engineer will evaluate your facility to identify which energy efficiency improvements could save you the most. Afterward, you'll be provided with a customized report that includes recommended energy conservation measures (ECMs) and estimated energy savings, as well as costs and available incentives for each measure.

Financial incentives

If you choose to follow through with the recommended projects, IPL will provide you with up to $500,000 in rebates. From start to finish, we can help you navigate the entire process to maximize your savings.
