

Never poke your fingers or other things into electrical outlets.

Never touch a downed power line or anything touching it, and never go near a substation.

